About LCANZ

Lactation Consultants of Australia and New Zealand Ltd (LCANZ) is the professional organisation for International Board Certified Lactation Consultant's (IBCLC's) and others who have an interest in lactation and breastfeeding. Our core business is to provide members with information and educational opportunities to enable them to continue to advance their practice as lactation consultants, and enhance the profession of Lactation Consultancy generally in Australia and New Zealand.

LCANZ provides a uniquely southern hemisphere approach to breastfeeding and lactation, and showcases the abundance of knowledge, research and skill in our region. We are also a Global Partner of the International Lactation Consultants Association.
